KANSAS PROHIBITION.

A Sudden Wave of Reform Strikes One of the Free Rum Cities.

HEAVY FINES AND LONG TERMS.

One Hundred Dollars for Each and Every Glass of Liquor Sold.

THE LAW IS NOW TO BE PUT IN FORCE

KANSAS CITY, March 19 .- Across the State line from this city lies the consolidated city of Kansas City, Kansas, composed of the former cities of Wyandotte, Armstrong, Armourdale, Riverside and Old Kansas City. Since the day when prohibition was first inaugurated in Kansas, this collection of cities has defied every attempt to suppress the sale of intoxicants. Among the 40,000 inhabitants there have been openly running over 100 saloons, 40 gambling hells, two cockpits and a dog-pit. The open violation of the law was so notorious that no attempt has been made in years to enforce it.

The public indignation at last rose to such a height that at the last election Joseph Fife was chosen County Prosecutor on the narrow platform, that he would suppress the dives. No one thought that he would be able to do this, but the eyes of the "Jointists" were opened when, after the last session of the grand jury, 50 saloon keepers were indicted and landed in

The law is rigorous and peculiar. The sale of a single glass of any intoxicant ranks as a single count in an indictment. Each conviction on a count carries with it a fine of from $100 to $500 and from 30 days to 6 months in jail. A TRIFLE STRONG.

On Thursday the trial of George Bunbar oc-curred on 22 counts, the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty on the twenty-second count only. The saloon men were jubilant and the citizens depressed. On the evening of that day the jail was broken open and seven men escaped, but not the saloon keepers. They had too soft a thing, they thought. On Friday Tobias Hogan was tried for selling 20 grasses of beer and was found guilty on the 23 counts. His sentence was to pay $2,300 and to spend 690 days in jail. On Saturday R. R. Dunbar was tried on 22 counts. found guilty on all of them and was fined $2,200 and sentened to 630 days in jail. fined $2,200 and sentened to $30 days in jail.

Fife's music was not enchanting. The courtroom was crowded this morning. Twelve of the "Jointists" who had been in jail for several weeks came to the front and pleaded gullty. Here are the penalties awarded to them: An Armourdale tough pleaded gullty to five counts, and Judge Miller assessed a fine of $500 and 150 days' imprisonment. H. Swigard, "Black!" Murphy, Charles Hurd, John Cheatwood; Joe Gettry, Joe Osler and James Croning also pleaded guilty to five counts.

The pleas of gullty were received only with the understanding that the defendants should quit the whisky business. Should any of them be baught engaging in it again they will get the full rigors of the law. The total amount of fines to date is $0,100, with which go 2,730 days in jail. Thirty-five other whisky dealers are in jail awalting trial, and there are about 15 out on bail.

SOMEWHAT SCARED.

The representative who visited Kansas City Kan., this afternoon could find but a single "joint" open, where there were 50 Friday. The "joint" discovered was near the State line, and had the words "For Rent" in front of the shut-ters, but that is only a blind. The gambling houses are keeping their doors closed in better shape than formerly, and it looks now as if "Joe" Fife was going to bring order out of dis-order.

The saloon keepers confined in the jall re-fused to talk, but one of the convicted men said: "I have received my death sentence. No one could spend two years in this jall and live." The man was right, for there is no worse live." The man was right, for there is no worse jall anywhere.

Prosecutor Fife said: "I am going to push these cases until every 'joint' in the city is closed. I have received many threats, but I am going to do just what I proposed." Both tickets nominated by the citizens are made up of representative business men, and with the assistance of the metropolitan police a grand clearing out will occur before the spring closes. It is thought now that another batch of 'jointists' will plead guilty to-morrow.

NEWS FROM THREE STATES.

Condensed Disputches From the Surround-Glance

MERCER Prohibitionists have raised $600 for educational purposes. THE Tiffin Street Railway has been sold to Eastern parties for $25,000. AT 6 o'clock last evening the towboat Annie Roberts collided with the Maggie at St. Mary's. Four barges were sunk, and Clinton Martin, of Short Creek, was drowned.

AN order has just been received at the Aloona machine shops for 15 new class "A" anthracite locomotives. It is stated that another similar order will follow at an early date.

THE license court for Lawrence county con venes to-morrow. There are 29 applicants. The temperance people are making little effort against the granting of licenses, preferring to wait for the battle in June.

DR. J. D. LARMOUTH, who was arrested at Carey, O., last Friday for bigamy on complaint of a former wife, was found near his home a raving maniac, with gashes in his head which were certainly made by an assassin. He will die. There is no clue.

JACOB CARROLL, a lineal descendant of Charles Carroll, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, is dead, at Wooster, from blood poisoning caused by a brass shoe eyelet which rubbed a sore spot on one of his feet. His age was 64 years.

WHILE a little son of Joseph Shuler, of Penr station, was playing with an old horse pistol it was suddenly discharged, the ball passing was suddenly discnarged, the ball passing through his grandmother's hand and injuring her seriously. The weapon was not known to have been leaded, and was given to the boy to amuse the baby with by shooting paper caps.

LAST July a young daughter of John Niseman, an ironworker residing at Youngstown, found a young turtle about the size of a quarter in the yard, and soon after it disap-peared. Mrs. Wiseman yesterday killed a chicken she had raised, and on opening the craw the turtle, which had grown considerably, was found alive and kicking, having grown fat IAT 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon an ugly wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad midway between Braddock and Bessemer. A car in the middle of train 1812 going east left the track, plunging into a lot of ore cars side-tracked, and heaped six cars together in one solid mass, reducing some to kindling wood. Fortunately no one was injured. A tramp stealing a ride narrowly escaped death, but leaped off in safety as the care separated.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Delia Collar, who resides about ten miles from New Castle, became suddenly insane. Physicians from this city at-tended her, but failed to relieve the malady. Saturday last Mrs. Collar was seized with apasms resembling hydrophobia, and while in one of them died. When a child Mrs. Collar was bitten by a cat, and regularly thereafter with the approach of spring queer blotches appeared on her face. This year they failed to spread.

DAVID BARKLEY, the Ohio boy who is convalescing from an attack of the rabies, is now able to sit up. He is very sore all over his body, but this sensitiveness to touch is ascribed to imagination; as he handles himself with apparent ease. The physicians think that this fear is a result of the hydrophobia. The patient converses with visitors who are still numerous at the Barkley home. Scores of letters from all parts of the country are comletters from all parts of the country are coming in, and owners of "madstones" are proffering their services. A well-known Eastern physleian writes that his daughter was bitten by a dog six years ago and he is in fear that the bite may still result seriously, hence he wants the Earkly boy's treatment in detail. Scientists are writing for data to be used in experimenting.

No well dressed gentleman would think of letting a clerk with no knowledge whatever of the art of merchant tailoring, measure him for a suit of clothes, and send the order East and expect to get a perfect-fitting suit, why then would you think of letting a clerk with no knowledge of the art of shirt cutting measure you for shirts and send the order East, and yet expect; perfect-fitting shirts? The only way to get perfect-fitting shirts is to have the person measure you who cuts the shirts himself and has them made under his own supervision.
